A tailor-made invoice process for the Construction Industry eye-share Construction is eye-share Invoice tailor-made for the Construction Industry. Our solution is well suited for owners, technical leaders, project managers and more.

Recognized construction companies uses eye-share Invoice to handle incoming invoices and other documents within the construction industry.

TAILORED FOR THE CONSTRUCTION INDUSTRY
The industry is project orientated and often decentralized in areas with bad bandwidth. In addition, there are many claims and strict deadlines when it comes to reports and deposition. In this industry, it is a necessary to accrue non-approved invoices by the end of the month.

Time and money are important factors in the industry, and these operations are often spread over multiple locations. Electronic handling of incoming invoices and other documents is a step in the right direction towards paperless processes. It can also reduce some of the more time consuming tasks- and gives you more time to focus on more business related tasks.

eye-share Invoice is well-fitted for the construction industry for several reasons:

• Functionally to handle claims
• Functionally to handle stage-payments
• Posting based on project
• Workflow based on project
• Projects across divisions and companies
• Report exclusion to accrue expenses
• Internal invoices between companies and projects

In addition, eye-share Invoice has several features:

- Reduce manual work in every stage of the invoice processing
- Automated 3-way-matching of PO makes sure specified criteria's has to be met before the invoice can be forwarded to accounting
- Simpler and faster handling of invoices and payment within due date saves you time and money
- Access invoices everywhere- and approve on the go with smartphones and tablets

- Automate follow up of invoices
- OCR-scanning of paper invoices and import of pdf and electronic invoices achieves a paperless process which creates order in the office- in addition it has a positive impact on the environment
- Reduce total handling-time drastically- from manual typing, posting and other to approval just by the click of a mouse
- Workflow based on interpreted data saves you time and manual work eye-share Invoice for the construction industry provides integration with accounting and procurement systems.

A complete overview of status and location of all incoming invoices is immediately available, and automated, paperless processing provides less clutter and more time spent working on industry related tasks.
